

Congratulations

Congratulations, Texas!

State adopts NCBTMB examination, the national standard.

NCBTMB applauds the Lone Star State's decision to advance the field of massage by increasing the number of instructional hours required – and adopting the NCBTMB examination.

In the coming months, NCBTMB will work with state legislators, school administrators, students and practitioners to ensure that the transition is a smooth one. From face-to-face meetings to informational mailings to outreach efforts, NCBTMB is committed to helping Texas make its ruling a reality.

Established in 1992, NCBTMB created its exams and certification program in order to foster high standards of ethical and professional practice. Today, there are nearly 86,000 nationally certified practitioners throughout the country.
